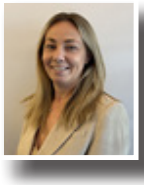
Friday 26 June 2026

Headteacher's Introduction



Dear Parents and Carers,

What a busy and rewarding week we've had at Archbishop Holgate's. Despite the heat, our students have continued to impress us with their conduct and commitment, and there's so much to celebrate.

First, I want to acknowledge Year 10, who have just concluded their two-week mock exam window. The way they have conducted themselves throughout this period has been fantastic. Mock exams can be a challenging time for students, but they've shown real maturity and focus, and I'm confident this will stand them in good stead as they move towards their final GCSE exams.

This week, we were also delighted to welcome the STEM Centre into school for four days. They've been working with 30 of our Year 8 students, and the feedback from both the students and the STEM Centre team has been extremely positive. Our students, as always, have been wonderful advocates for the school, engaging enthusiastically with the activities and demonstrating the curiosity and passion we love to see. These kinds of enrichment opportunities really do make a difference to our students' learning experiences.

Last night brought a different kind of excitement as we welcomed our Year 6 cohort to our Transition Evening. It was wonderful to see so many families in school, getting to know our key staff members and beginning to build those important relationships. The chance for students to meet their form tutor and to sample our school meals helped to make the transition feel a little less daunting. I was particularly impressed by the quality of our student ambassadors on the evening. Special mention must go to our Year 12 School Captains, Sam and Amy, and our brave Year 7 volunteer Poppy, who delivered a presentation in the main hall. They represented our school brilliantly and gave our prospective students a real sense of what it means to be part of the Archbishop Holgate's community.

Finally, today was a day of real celebration. We welcomed over 100 families from our Year 8 cohort, along with members of our Governing Board, to an achievement event recognising the wonderful accomplishments of our Year 8 students both inside and outside the classroom. Seeing so many students being recognised for their efforts and celebrating the end of their Year 8 journey was truly special. As they move into Year 9, I have no doubt they will continue to thrive and make us proud.

Thank you to all our students, staff, and families for making this such a positive week.

With best wishes for the week ahead,
Lucie Pond, Headteacher

Use of Fidget Tools in the Classroom

From Monday 29 June, students will only be permitted to use Blu Tac as a classroom fidget.

We have seen a significant increase in fidgets, and some toys, that are not appropriate for school use and are causing distraction, disruption and in some cases damage to school property. Therefore this decision has not been taken lightly, and has been informed by recent recommendations around a review of the potential negative effects on attention and learning outweighing the sensory benefits for most students.

Rather than relying on fidget toys, we will continue to focus on identifying and addressing the underlying barriers that may affect a student's engagement and concentration. These might include factors such as restlessness, hunger, language demands, anxiety, or tasks that are not appropriately matched to a student's needs.

Students will be informed through their daily notices. Thank you for your continued support.

Food for Thought

Throughout this final term our Form Tutor Collective Worship explores different themes inspired by the notion of Pilgrimage, with material from the Church of England. This week considers how important a walking stick would be to help you when you are in need of support on your journey. Our daily quotes are all bible passages on the theme of Supporting Others.

"We can't help everyone, but everyone can help someone."

Ronald Reagan, 40th President of the United States

Art - Work of the Week

Last week, Mr Nicholson took an exciting trip to Central Saint Martins University in London to see former art student, Ariadne Wright's, final exhibition. She created this performance art piece, inviting viewers to actively participate in the artwork. We are so proud of her for pursuing her passion in art and wish her all the best for her next steps.

Yorkshire Speak Out Challenge 2026

We would like to congratulate Year 10 student, Verity Kearns, on reaching the finals of The Yorkshire Speak Out Challenge 2026. The event, at The Carriageworks Theatre, Leeds, showcased the best public speakers selected from schools across Yorkshire. From being selected as a finalist in an initial workshop, Verity then went on to achieve first place in the school assembly finals and then to be successful in the virtual Yorkshire semi-finals. Verity prepared and performed a powerful, thought-provoking speech about racism in historical artwork.

Message from the School Nurse

Negative Body Image

Negative body image for teens involves persistent, distressing thoughts about appearance that undermine self-esteem and mental health. It is heavily driven by social media, physical changes, and peer pressure, and can lead to anxiety, eating disorders, and social withdrawal.

Warning Signs - Recognising when normal adolescent insecurity crosses the line into a deeper problem can help teens get early support: Constant comparison: Obsessively comparing themselves to others. Social withdrawal: Avoiding social events, sports, or intimacy. Changes in habits: Sudden changes in mood, energy, or appetite. Excessive fixations: Spending excessive time in front of mirrors or going to great lengths to cover 'flaws'.

Causes and Impact - Social Media: Exposure to heavily filtered, idealized imagery strongly correlates with lower self-esteem and increased body dissatisfaction. Mental Health: In extreme cases, it can manifest as Body Dysmorphic Disorder (BDD), an obsessive focus on perceived flaws. Gender Nuances: While historically more common in girls, an increasing number of boys also face negative body image related to pressure to be muscular or lose weight.

How to Help - Model Body Positivity: Parents and caregivers should monitor their own body talk and avoid criticising their own appearance in front of teens. Promote Functional Appreciation: Encourage teens to focus on what their bodies can do (like run, dance, or think) rather than just how they look. Seek Professional Support: If negative body image interferes with daily life, school, or social interactions, professional counselling is recommended.

Support Resources in the UK: Learn more about body dysmorphia and how to cope on the Young Minds guide. Access free, confidential mental health support and advice from Childline if your teen is struggling. Explore strategies for fostering a healthy home environment with UNICEF Parenting.

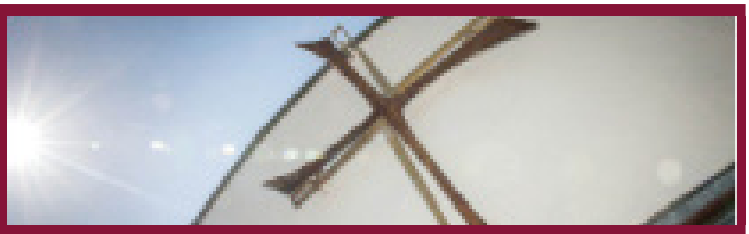
This Week's Sixth Form News



Message from Mrs De Lashley, Assistant Head: Director of Sixth Form

2026 University & Schools Payload Challenge

The Head Judge of the challenge asked the organisers specifically to forward on feedback to the four Year 12 students that voluntarily took part in the undergraduate competition. We are so proud! Huge congratulations to Alfred Davies (Team Manager) and Tom Cain, Owen Bartholomew, Eddy Merrit and Alex Driffield.

'The judges were extremely impressed at how this team of Sixth Formers performed in a competition class that is pitched at 2nd-year undergraduates. While this necessarily resulted in lost marks from the (wholly understandable) lack of undergraduate-level mathematical modelling, we commend the team's written and practical work which put many of their university student competitors to shame. They can be very proud of their achievement.'

Book Recommendation

A reminder that each week we share a recommendation from the post-16 reading list that we hope our students will engage with. This reading list is one of many that can be found online but one that we think is broad, challenging and accessible. A copy of all of the listed books can be found in the Resource Centre.

Good Days: An A-Z of Hope and Happiness by Michael Rosen

Set out as an A-Z of happiness, this uplifting book gives each letter a short entry focused on finding joy in everyday life. Ideal to read in sequence or for dipping into, the dictionary-style format gives Michael Rosen space to inspire us with practical ideas, examples and ways to find and create small moments of hope and positivity. High recommended.

Dear School Leavers,

Finishing school and moving on to the next stage of your life is an exciting time, bringing more independence, new experiences, and greater freedom. But with that freedom comes responsibility, and we want to help you stay safe while you make the most of it.

Every year, we see incidents involving young people that could have been avoided. To help you make safe decisions, we're sharing some important advice on water safety, wildfires, and road safety.

Open Water Safety
Swimming outdoors might look fun, but open water can be dangerous, even on a hot day. Cold water can shock your body in seconds, and rivers, lakes, and the sea all have hidden risks, such as strong currents and objects beneath the surface.

If you're visiting open water, follow these tips:

- Go with friends - don't go alone.
- Stick to recognised, supervised swimming areas.
- Look out for safety signs and flags.
- If someone is in trouble, call 999 and ask for the Coastguard at the coast, or the Fire and Rescue Service inland.
- Don't jump in to rescue someone, as you could also get into difficulty. Look for nearby safety equipment that you can throw to them.

My Ref: KCSAW/JUN26

Dear Parent/Carer,

Helping to Keep Children and Young People Safe Around Water

Every year, children and young people are injured or lose their lives in water-related incidents. Many of these tragedies can be prevented through greater awareness and simple safety advice.

We are asking parents and carers to take a few minutes to talk with their child about staying safe around water. A short conversation now could make a real difference.

Even on warm days, open water can be dangerously cold. Entering the water too quickly can lead to:

- cold water shock
- gasping and breathing difficulties
- panic
- loss of strength and coordination

Please remind your child that they should never:

- jump into water
- swim in reservoirs, rivers or quarries
- go into the water to retrieve items
- take part in dares or social media challenges involving water
